Maryland Stadium Authority Statement: Stadium Use Agreements with Teams

The Maryland Stadium Authority (MSA) is working closely with the Baltimore Orioles and Ravens so that Oriole Park at Camden Yards and M&T Bank Stadium will be upgraded to remain best-in-class facilities in terms of safety, amenities and fan experience.

To that end, MSA successfully advocated for legislation that contributes to the immediate and long-term needs and future of the stadiums, incentivizes the teams and the MSA to finalize agreements to renew and extend their stadium use and development agreements, and provides the opportunity to expand the economic impact of games and other year-round activities at the Camden Yards Sports Complex.

Like many Marylanders, MSA is delighted that John Angelos, Chairman and CEO of the Baltimore Orioles, publicly stated the team's desire to remain in Baltimore. Furthermore, MSA is extremely pleased with the team's performance and the fan attendance this season as we celebrate Oriole Park at Camden Yards 30th anniversary.

Similarly, MSA is excited that the Ravens have expressed their desire to discuss their agreement well in advance of its 2027 expiration and investment in M&T Bank Stadium as it approaches its 25th year.

MSA fully recognizes that discussing new agreements with both the Orioles and the Ravens simultaneously presents a once in a generation opportunity to upgrade and redevelop the Camden Yards Sports Complex holistically. MSA understands and appreciates the public interest as the MSA and these beloved teams work to renew their strong commitments to the State of Maryland and the City of Baltimore. While we cannot comment publicly on the ongoing discussions and negotiations, MSA, together with each team, promises to inform the citizens and taxpayers of Maryland when each agreement is completed and presented for approval.
